Stamping at New Heights Karvekrete Plaster Creates Castle Like Fantasy

Home owners constantly strive to create homes with the ever-elusive "Wow" factor, especially lake homes. And with Concrete Arts unique exterior Karvekrete application, this lake home drops jaws and inspires wows.

Built on the West end of picturesque Sand Lake in St. Croix Falls, WI, this executive home with a castle-like tower melded traditional exterior materials with our Karvekrete to further elaborate on a medieval feel.

By creating the illusion of old stone that you would see on a castle, Concrete Arts hand carved the home's siding with its Karvekrete vertical stamping product. Stamped with our Castle Stone stamp and texture skins with brick borders, this fairy tale dream home became a reality for its home owner.

Karvekrete allows for more design flexibility rather than just a monolithic stone look. The craftsmen were able to vary sections and blend the natural structure and stamps with a decomposed look. Custom color stains were used to accent different stones on the Beach Sand castle stone stamped siding while the Emerald colored seamless stamp encompassed a soothing affect.

With the relaxing waters and six acres of nature, one's creativity might wander back into the fairy tales that dreams are made of.
